Experiment no:4

Aim: Demonstrate a registration form using HTML

```
<html>
<title>Registration form</title>
<body bgcolor="lightblue">
<center>
<h1>User registration</h1>

<form></form>
<fieldset>
<legend>Personal Data</legend>
<label for="name">Name:</label><input type="text" name="name">
<label for="address">Address:</label>
<textarea id="address" name="address" cols="20" rows="5"></textarea>
Date Of Birth:<input type="date">
Mobile:<input type="number" name="mob">
Email:<input type="email" name="email">
Gender:Male<input type="radio" value="gender" name="radio">
Female<input type="radio" value="gender" name="radio">
Other<input type="radio" value="gender" name="radio">
Languages:Englih<input type="checkbox" value="lang" name="cb">
Malayalam<input type="checkbox" value="lang" name="cb">
Hindi<input type="checkbox" value="lang" name="cb">
Arabic<input type="checkbox" value="lang" name="cb">
Nationality:<select>
<option>India</option>
<option>Pakistan</option>
<option>Nepal</option>
<option>Afgan</option>
</select>
<input type="submit" value="Submit">
```

```
<input type="reset" value="Reset">

</fieldset>
</form>
</center>
</body>

</html>
```

OUTPUT: